if your trash is usually picked up in your alley, do we put this there or in the front of the home on the street? (I live in a Garden home)

wish you had smaller cans. These are way too big for me and others that are seniors and don't need the big trash cans. You did offer them in the beginning when they came out but no one ever contacted me or gave me an answer for the trade.

Donnetta Byrd I didn't agree with everything he said. I like Universal City. The speeding is exceptionally bad in that area. The lady was rude to correct his spelling. No reason to be hateful to others. We all have our problems. Kindness helps.

David Bailey I agree. And those housing projects are ugly. It's sad people in the near future won't experience owning a house they've actually designed and it has space for kids to play AROUND their house. Hate those areas. No character. No appeal. High prices and probably have an HOA that takes away all enjoyment. Yuk!

Barbara Barbozis Bilderback If there was a day crew, traffic would really suck. It's bad enough at night-time and they close a bunch of lanes. What's normally a 15-20min drive, sometimes takes close to an hour.

Today we mourn the passing of Dick Neville a true servant leader whose life was a gift to our nation and our community.
Dick led with his heart, inspiring all of us with his quiet strength, steady guidance, and unwavering love for others. His legacy of service and leadership will continue to light the way for generations to come.
Thank you, Dick, for showing us what true leadership looks like. You will remain a personal inspiration.

There ought to be a workday to clean up the area next to the golf course where the runoff comes from IH 35, then figuring out a way to catch all the trash before it reaches the golf course. That area is LOADED with trash.

Talon Petty thanks for actually taking the time to look that up. For some medicinal users THC is an important component because it provides the euphoric feeling that can be helpful in many ways for those suffering from various illnesses or health issues. It's not all about getting high or stoned. Like any medicine, it depends on what you need and what your ailments are. Pain medication that's opiate based causes feelings of euphoria and so do many other legal prescription drugs. Different strains of cannabis have varying levels of CBD and THC. So, if legalized and regulated, it would be much easier to choose what's right for you and know that's it's safe to consume, and not fertilized with bat shit or bird poop. Or any other dangerous chemicals. Also, I think recreational use of cannabis should be legal as well.

How about posting the city's letter supporting this measure? This is one of the most ass-backwards cities.....and hypocritical too. When Green Botanicals opened you acted all supportive about these products, now you would hurt them and many other businesses in our city. There was a steady stream of customers the last time I visited that store, and they weren't teenagers. It was all adults.

What is the harm from these products that you are lobbying so hard to hurt us? Are they tied to some crime wave? And your ass-kissing police chief tried to say that the products aren't staying within the required percentages allowed by law. He needs to stop meddling in politics with his nonscientific "data " My pain mgt Dr always tests me, and I'm never above allowable limits.

The compassionate use program is too strict for many of us with autoimmune disease to qualify. Y'all talk about being visionaries when you're really just a bunch of people locked into the Mayberry fantasy.

Crystal Pualani Alvarez-Glover say that out loud. Not liking a word is hateful. I think the word squash is a gross word. Is that hateful. Crotch is another word that just sounds nasty and I don't like it so, who am I being hateful to there? Nobody has a problem with the words. It's the actions that the policy makes happen. I work for a company that had to hire a person based solely on the fact that they wanted the job and we had to be diverse or equal or whatever the hell it was. That person ended up flooding an entire 4000 square-foot 2 1/2 million dollar house and destroying a few pieces of property that were over 200 years old because they weren't qualified to be doing what we had to allow them to do. Nobody's taking away anybody's rights. They're simply stating that you cannot be forced to hire somebody that is not qualified for the job. That is all this means and nobody's hatingspecial needs people or other races or whatever. You can call me all the names you want it only proves my point that you don't know what you're talking about because you don't know me and obviously you don't know what this is about.

It didn't happen as described. Our household trash (and neighbors) was not picked up on Thursday, January 22nd as scheduled. Is there an update? I cannot get through to WM on their phone line.
